MY DADDY'S SO LUCKY!

'My daddy's so lucky to have me!'

My Daddy's So Lucky offers a funny and loving exploration of a child's matter-of-fact outlook on life — the narrator reminds us that she is the reason why her daddy says hello to pigeons and learns to make stunning sand castles; when she's not there, her daddy gets bored, lies in bed all morning and only reads books that are entirely black and white!

Every double page features a flap that the reader can lift up to see both how happy Daddy is when he's playing with his daughter, and how dull his life is when she's not with him.

MY MUMMY'S SO LUCKY!

May 2020

A second volume that draws on the hit structure of the first!

Because of me, my mummy comes running into the house after work every evening... If I weren't here, she wouldn't know what to do when she got in, and wasting time is never fun!

A perfect way to introduce young children to comic prose!

THE ROYAL WHOOPSIE

By Coralie Saudo & Mylène Rigaudie

All is calm as the King parades his way through the savannah. Suddenly, a tiny mosquito lands on his paw and stings him!

'Ooh, ooh, ooh! Ow, ow, ow!'

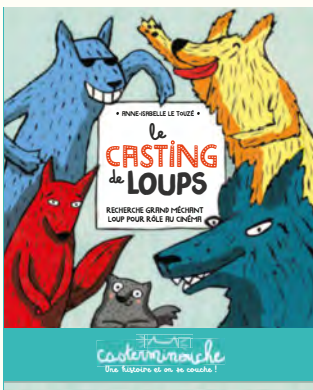

The King of the animals is rolling on the ground. He is in agony!

The King's servant rushes over to him... And so does his gardener, his cook and his sculptor...

But nobody can do anything to help...

Nobody, that is, apart from the King's mummy!

A picture book that explores a topic young children are all too familiar with — tantrums!

THE WOLVES' CASTING CALL

By Anne-Isabelle Le Touzé

URGENT! WOLF WANTED FOR HUGE FILM ROLE!

'Hello! Are you here for the casting? Please come in... Come in, come in, don't be so scared!

Stand right under the light! Could you give me your loudest howl, please?'

A quirky casting director is auditioning many different wolves — there's the wolf who's far too shy, the wolf who just wants to make everybody laugh, the wolf who's really scary, and the wolf who already thinks he's a celebrity...

Which wolf will ultimately land the star role? What role actually is it?

A hilarious and heartwarming new take on a beloved fairy-tale character — the Big Bad Wolf!

I'M A BIT SCARED!

By Nadine Brun-Cosme & Christine Davenier

What are you scared of? Nothing; are you sure?

Well... We'll see about that!

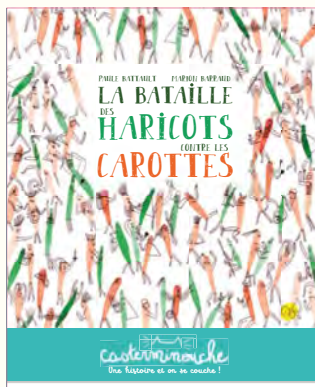

Here are three horrid, horrid snakes... Slimy and disgusting. Three great big hissing snakes, with their strange eyes and their forked tongues... Imagine them slinking... sliding... into your hair!!!

Argh; that's awful! You'll start shaking, you'll start screaming. Won't you? Aren't you screaming? Aren't you shaking? Not even a little bit? Do you think snakes are funny? Just you wait, you'll see!

A motley collection of witches, spiders and dragons, all of them ready to make young children squeal with delight. There's nothing more entertaining than playfully scaring yourself!

A sensitively written picture book that helps to calm young children's fears... With plenty of laughs along the way.

THE CASTERMAN BEDTIME COLLECTION

THE GREAT BEAN-CARROT BATTLE

By Paule Battault & Marion Barraud

A fun-filled story, and its hero... is a bean! It all takes place... on a plate!

ONE, TWO! ONE, TWO! The vegetables are marching; it's a produce-based parade. A new battle looms... The beans and the carrots are gearing up to fight again. In the bean army, there are green beans who are keen to be seen, butter beans dreaming up winning schemes, and there's our hero, Coco. Coco is pale with fear. 'Coco's afraid! Coco's a scaredy-bean!' Coco's friends call out, mocking him. Because... it's true, Coco is different from everybody else; he hates conflict...

Coco decides to run away. Follow him on his adventure to more peaceful surroundings!

Humour and originality combine in a madcap tale that's set entirely on a plate... Dinner is served!

A message about courage and bravery that will inspire all young children.

MY DOG, THE PRINCESS

By Sandra Le Guen & Stéphane Nicolet

When Albert is forced to get his enormous dog ready for a beauty pageant, he realises that he has a busy week ahead of him!

'That morning, I had something very important to say to Marcel and Camélia...

— My dog's a princess, and it's all too much!

They looked at me, their eyes wide open.

— Zou's a princess, is she? What are you talking about, Albert?

Marcel and Camélia didn't believe me... I should mention that they know Zou. The gigantic, standing-up Zou... The huge, sitting-down Zou... And they're most familiar with the sleeping-and-curled-up-and-dead-to-the-world Zou. When she's asleep, Zou looks like a massive chocolate fondant that has splattered all over the floor.

Marcel and Camélia know Zou's hairs, too... And Zou's biscuits... And Zou's dribble... Not so princessy, I admit.

An uproariously fun picture book about the bond between a little boy and his dog.

INCREDIBLY LUCKY!

By Capucine Lewalle & Maud Legrand

A mother's love letter to her child.

'Our planet is home to listless jellyfish, microscopically small sea creatures, kittens that are all too endearing, insects that are all too prepared to sting, lovely Dalmatians, and perhaps a few Martians...

And among all these living things, there is a child — one child I love with a boundless love. I really am incredibly lucky, because some mornings, that child, the one I love so madly, slips into my bed. He could be lying anywhere — in a hammock in Bolivia, on a beach in Burma or in a tent in Mongolia... But despite the vastness of this planet, he comes into my bed, in my room!'

A focused expression of maternal love that will inspire affection in even the youngest readers.

ROLL, ROLL, ROLL GALETTE - A POP-UP ADVENTURE

By IK & SK

November 2020

20 x 26 cm

5 double pages - die-cuts and ribbon

€ 13.50

A galette gets so bored after being left to cool that she slips out through a window and sets off on an adventure. She rolls, rolls, rolls along, singing her way across the countryside as she avoids being eaten by a rabbit, a bear and a wolf. But what will happen to Galette when the sly fox calls her to him?

Featuring a pop-up carousel that's perfect for little hands, every page is easy to animate as a cut-out galette is passed from one scene to the next. Featuring a handy pocket in which to store the card galette.

Based on the popular Russian story of Kolobok the Bread Bun, Roll, Roll, Roll Galette is also inspired by the Ukrainian version of the tale, which takes the form of a song.

A JOURNEY THROUGH LIFE WITH AIMÉE AND MEHDI

A SERIES THAT HELPS CHILDREN AND THEIR PARENTS TACKLE LIFE'S BIGGEST QUESTIONS.

By Sophie Furlaud & Laurent Simon

available

19.5 x 24 cm

32 pages - Hard back

€ 10.90

A series that focuses on two communicative and thoughtful best friends.

Resources that help children cope with life's more challenging moments.

VOL. 4 - MY FAMILY IS CHANGING

Aimée's family is changing.

Her parents have separated and her mum doesn't just have a new partner, but a new baby boy, too.

What does her dad do when Aimée's not with him? Does her mum miss her when she's not there? Then there's her new half-brother, her mum's partner and her dad's girlfriend...

Who is in Aimée's family, then? With the help of her best friend Mehdi, Aimée is going to start finding answers to her questions and calm her fears.

Combining a comic-book-style look at everyday events with more symbolic illustrations, the Aimée and Mehdi collection sensitively guides young children through the ebbs and flows of life.

NON-VIOLENT COMMUNICATION SERIES

By Virginie Aladjidi, Caroline Pelissier & Kei Lam

May 2020

19.5 x 24 cm

32 pages – Hard back

€ 10.90

A beautiful picture book featuring finely detailed and evocative illustrations, Jealousy—Go Away! also includes explanatory texts that teach parents and their children all about non-violent communication.

VOL. 2 - JEALOUSY - GO AWAY!

When you're as fired up as a jackal, how can you make yourself as calm as a giraffe?

Alfred the zebra from the zigzagging grassland and Johnny the acrobatically able monkey are playing with a ball, but why hasn't Nico the jackal joined them?

Is it because the others don't want him there? Or because he's too scared to ask if he can play? Jealous, upset and angry, Nico decides to get his own back by stealing the animals' ball...

Sometimes, however, a simple question is all it takes to defuse a conflict. It just so happens that Thérèse, the giraffe with the long, long, neck, asks that question: 'Wouldn't you like to be part of their group? Couldn't you go and tell them how you're feeling?'

When we get so jealous that we become violent, it's important that we learn to express ourselves in other ways — rather than behaving like a jackal, we need to be like a giraffe!

Two new volumes are scheduled to be added to this series every year.

KEEPING YOUR FEET ON THE GROUND

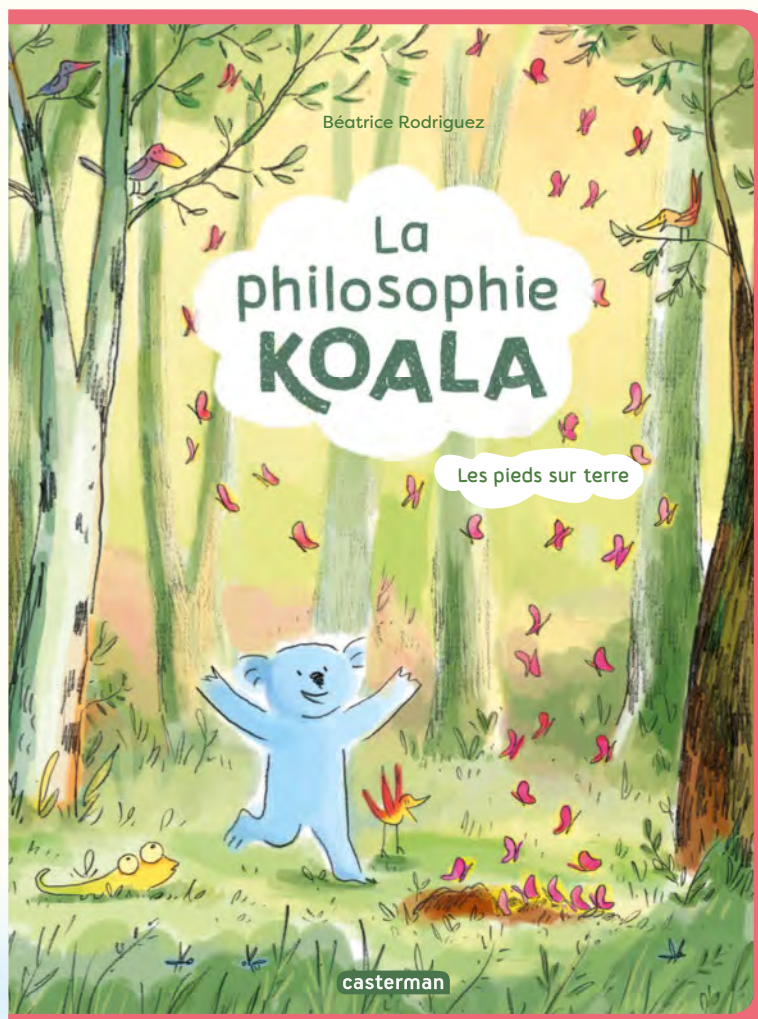

By Beatrice Rodriguez

April 2020
21 x 28 cm
80 pages
€ 14.95

A comic-book-style story that blends sensitivity and humour like no other, featuring an engaging cast of animal characters who all have big questions about life.

As they return for a second volume, Koala, Bird and Chameleon are enjoying taking in the beauty of the natural world, whether they are marvelling at a butterfly being born, a starlit sky, the diversity of the animal kingdom or the life cycle and changes of a single plant... No flippant observations are offered here; instead, the friends discover the benefits of dung and droppings and the scourge wrought by plastic across nature...

Philosophical reflection with an environmentally conscious thrust, Keeping Your Feet on the Ground can be understood by everybody and is sure to chime with the concerns and questions of all young readers. A rare and delightful mix of thoughtful storytelling and gentle humour that's certain to prove inspiring to everyone who reads it — young and old alike.

An opportunity to tackle big questions subtly and simply.
Featuring a delightful selection of delicately painted watercolour illustrations.

'Mummy and Daddy, how did you meet?'

Sofia is keen to find out about where she comes from, so is asking her parents a lot of questions.

Sofia's dad met her mum when he had to call for a tow truck after he drove into a wall to avoid hitting a pedestrian...

Sofia wants to draw a picture to thank the pedestrian... And the wall... And whoever invented tow trucks!

Sofia's parents, meanwhile, draw a picture for their daughter, to show how much they love her.

SOFIA'S BIG QUESTIONS SERIES

MUMMY AND DADDY, WHO CAME BEFORE ME?

By Thierry Lenain & Stéphanie Marchal

12 February 2020
 20 x 23.5 cm
 32 pages
 € 9.50

'Mum and Dad? Who Came Before Me?'

Now seems like the perfect time for Sofia's parents to rewind the clock and look at how their family came about — from Sofia's parents' life as a couple to her grandparents, who knew each other at school, and her great-great-grandparents, who were slaves, with a further look back to the age of knights on horseback, the pharaohs, and cavemen. Before all that, there weren't any humans on Earth, just animals, and even further back, there was just a black hole...

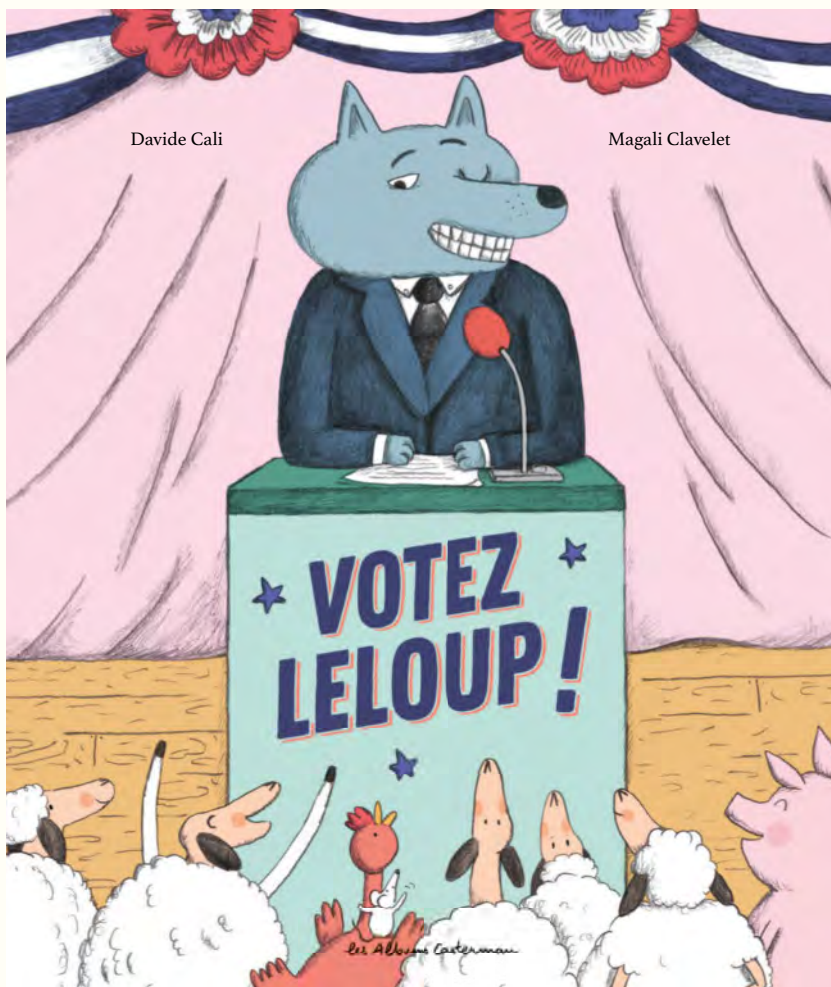

'And inside that black hole... There was ME!' Sofia concludes.

A look at the story of a single family and, through it, the history of humanity. An insightful rebuttal to prejudice.

VOTE WOLFE!

By Davide Cali & Magali Clavelet

April 2020
23.1 x 27.2 cm
40 pages
€ 13.90

It's election time on the farm...
A fable with added bite!

A new leader will soon be elected to preside over the farm. The candidates for the role are usually the animals that live there. There's Peter Piggles and his 'more mud for everyone' campaign, Anne Hen, the staunch defender of the right not to lay eggs, and the Mouse brothers, whose primary concerns are all cheese-based. This year, however, an animal nobody knows and who has attracted a huge amount of attention has entered the race — Tim Wolfe.

Mr Wolfe is charming, likeable and very funny. He wants to be everyone's friend; that's his campaign pledge!

Who do you think will become the new leader?

A fresh take on the story of the Big Bad Wolf, with a topical narrative twist that makes it all the more entertaining.

Vote Wolfe's carefully layered construction ensures that it is rich in meaning for all readers, young and old alike.

A clear and straightforward overview of how elections work... coupled with a hearty dose of mordant wit!

I DON'T WANT TO BE A CHILD ANY MORE!

By Patricia Berreby & Charles Dutertre

May 2020
20.2 x 26.2 cm
32 pages
€ 13.90

A little boy who's never at a loss for words and is always full of ideas makes his grievances known.

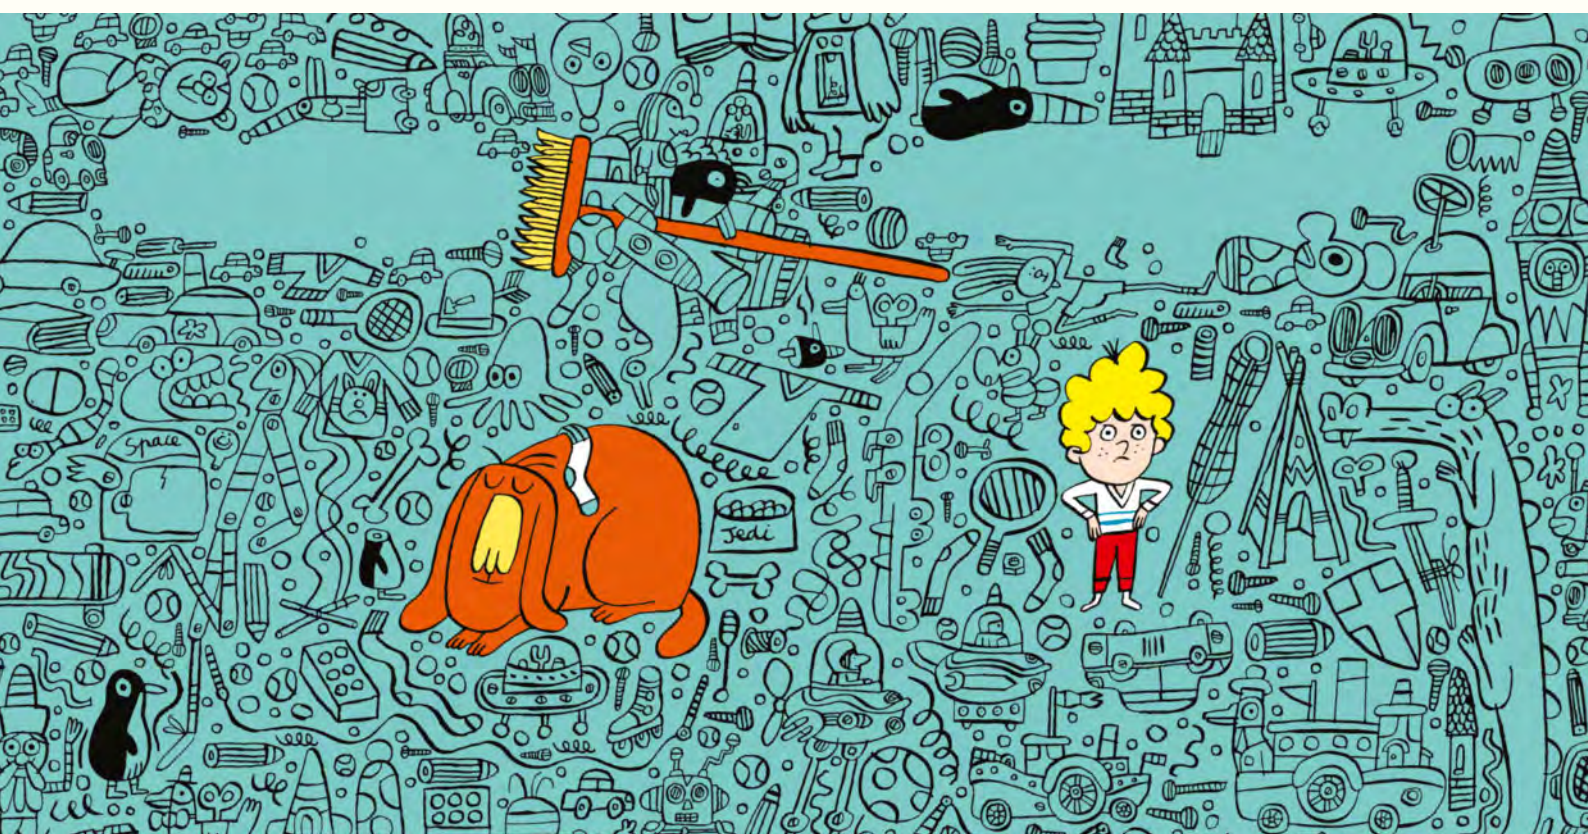

Blaise isn't happy. He doesn't like being a child! He wants to do what he wants, just like grown-ups — he wants to drive a car, and drink champagne, and eat out at restaurants, and pay for things with real money. And there are some things he doesn't want people to make him do any more — he doesn't want to go to bed early just so that he can go to school, or get up, or get washed, or be sensible, or be polite, or be nice, or share.

That's all — he has said his piece.

The zany bombast of hilarious prose meets wry illustrations as I Don't Want to be a Child Any More! Introduces readers to a cheeky and engaging young hero all children will be able to relate to!

THE TEACHER'S DAUGHTER

By Rachel Hausfater & Caroline Ayrault

February 2020

14 x 19 cm

96 pages

€ 6.95

An illustrated novel

How can you get through school when you mum is in the classroom next door every day?

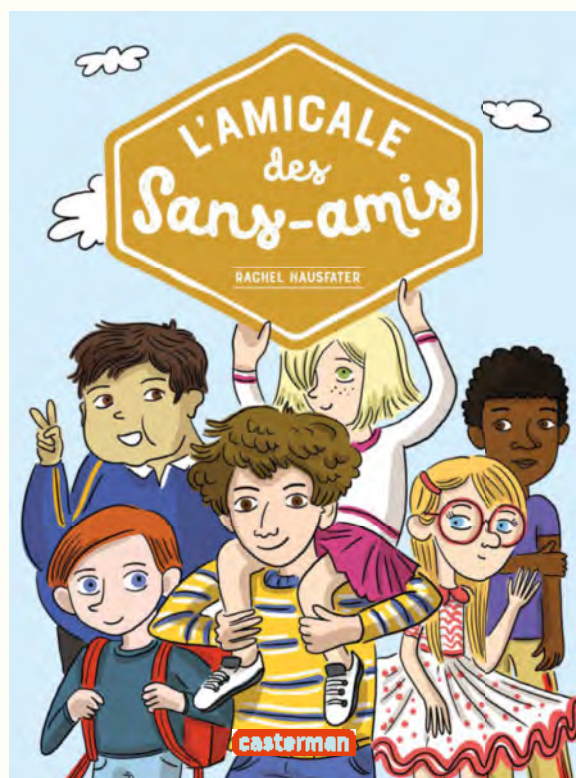

It's the start of the new school year! There's a new teacher at Dolorès' school, and the pupils are terrified of her. She's cruel, she shouts all the time, she bans everything fun — and worst of all, she makes everybody work. All. The. Time.

Dolorès is keen to stay hidden any time the new monster — sorry, teacher — walks past, because she just happens to be Dolorès' mum.

Dolorès will stop at nothing to make sure the secret doesn't get out!

Offering a spirited take on everyday situations that young readers are sure to find hilarious, The Teacher's Daughter features a selection of playful illustrations that form the perfect complement to the inventive and light-hearted narrative.

A novel depiction of a mother-daughter relationship and a fresh look at school — teachers have a life outside the classroom, too!

THE NO-FRIENDS CLUB

By Rachel Hausfater

May 2020

14 x 19 cm

96 pages

€ 6.95

A novel for children who feel lonely at break time... What if they weren't really alone?

For Saul, break time is just a chore. He prefers being in the classroom, with everyone sitting in neat rows and lines — at least there, nobody notices that he doesn't have any friends...

Saul is a no-friender, and that's a bit like having a disease. Thankfully, he finds a refuge — a small shed where he can keep to himself, hidden away from everyone else's gaze. One day, Solène knocks at the door of Saul's shed. She's a no-friender, too, just like Souleyman, Sélim, Célimène and Alan, who all end up installing themselves in the shed. Together, they create a group specially for people like them, who are always alone — the No-Friends Club.

A sensitively cheerful novel that tells the story of children who aren't willing to stand out from the crowd.

Illustrations that bring out the innovative and playful elements of the narrative.

A unique group of 'no-frienders', all of whom are very different, very engaging, and committed to helping one another.

VOL. 2 - GHOSTS UNDER INVESTIGATION

With his parents away from home, Elliot is spending time with his new family — the ghosts Éva, Angus, Amédée and Walter.

This second volume of ghostly goings-on sees a no-nonsense inspector from the CMS — the Commission for Maladapted Spooks — arriving at 109 Rue des Soupirs to check that the house is properly haunted... And with the ghosts having befriended Elliot, it isn't properly haunted at all.

The ghoulish group will have to redouble their imaginative efforts to convince the inspector that they're a terrifying supernatural force — offering traps, torments and ghostly groans from every storey of the house. And that's without reckoning on the return of the ghost hunter Ulrika Von Paprika... How can the ghosts be both scary and subtle at the same time?!

A new story that will leave readers dying... with laughter!

Carefully crafted and rhythmically structured writing meets caustic wit in a story that children will love.

€ 15.90

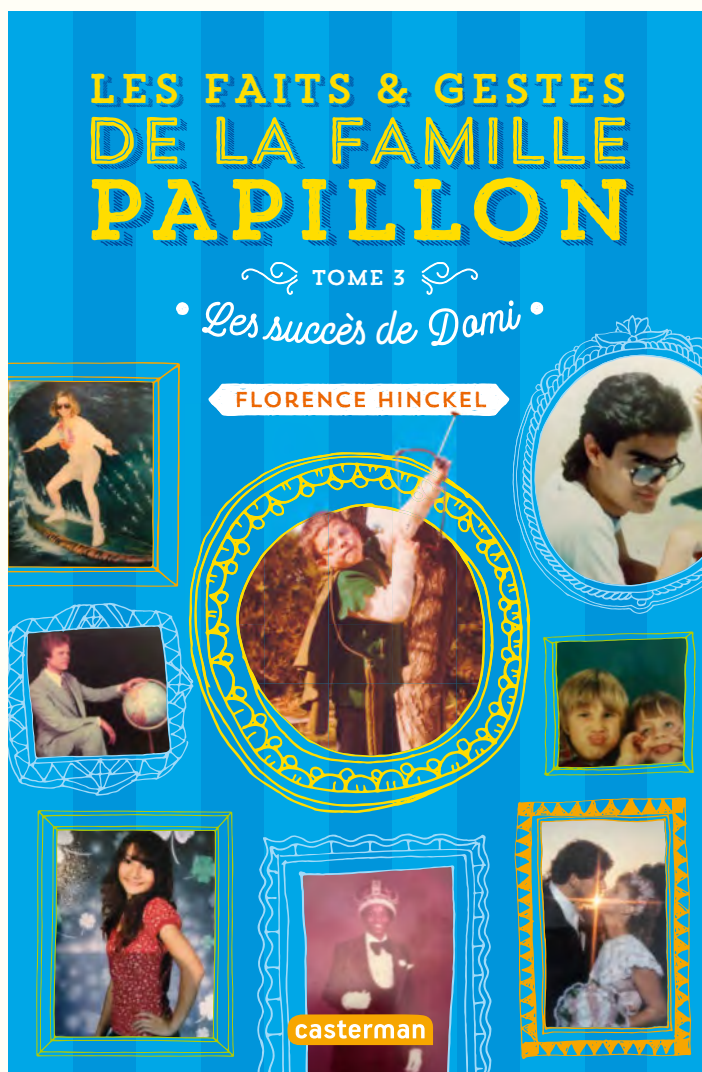

The third and final book in the wit-filled, twist-fuelled trilogy!

Éva's madcap adventures are coming to an end — what if the Papillon and Avalanche families were forced to come together, for better and for worse?

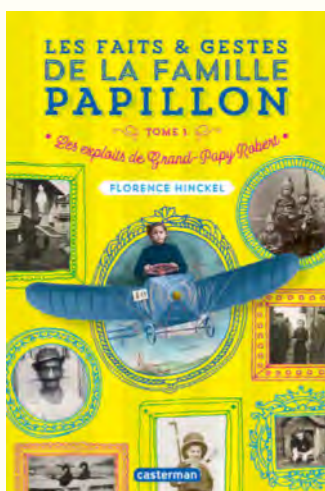

The Papillon and Avalanche families have agreed to a truce. With Éva and Coline living normal lives, humanity has nothing to fear — wonderful things happen at the same time as catastrophes; good and bad have regained their balance. But nothing, of course, can be this straightforward if you're born half-Papillon, half-Avalanche... Éva soon discovers that she can cause positive events to occur if she thinks positive things, and vice versa. To feel good, she must therefore reconcile with her mother, Sonia Avalanche. And then there's uncle Boris. Frustrated at never having enjoyed power of his own, he dreams only of kidnapping the twins, and is laying the groundwork for his most sinister scheme yet!

The story of two families with extraordinary powers who hold the future of the world in their hands.

A new series of astonishing photos, all straight from the 1980s and '90s.

THE HAUNTED COLLECTION

A SERIES FOR READERS WHO LOVE SCARING THEMSELVES!

March 2020
14 x 19 cm
120 pages
€ 5.95

HAUNTED

- Aimed at readers aged ten and up
- Only 5.95 € for each 120-page book
- Standalone stories that offer a genuinely spine-tingling take on everyday situations
- A series that plumbs the depths of the spooky, the scary and the downright terrifying
- Children will love the thrilling prospect of an entertaining and subversive reading experience

Although scary stories are currently proving very popular and attract significant interest from young people, few pre-teen novels take horror seriously — for this age group, scary subject matter (including superstitions, monsters and unexplained events) is often given a sugar-coated treatment that sees it shifted towards other genres like fantasy and humour...

Two titles herald the launch of the new Haunted collection — The House That Never Sleeps and The Girl in the Cellar — with a further two new titles coming in September!

THE HOUSE THAT NEVER SLEEPS

By Benoît Malewicz

'He was convinced his heart would give out on him. Fingers were squeezing through the crack — white fingers with no nails; they twisted, worm-like, to seize his neck.'

Paul, an eleven-year-old secondary-school pupil, has just moved house, and his new home is a mass of cold and imposing stone walls. Far away from his former friends, and with his parents always busy, Paul feels alone... At night, he starts sleepwalking. Every nocturnal journey ends with him waking in the depths of the house, in front of the door to the cellar. Something is lurking behind that door, something terrifying, shaking pipes and scratching behind walls... Waiting for Paul...

A touching story of three friends coming together in the face of adversity. A distinctly disturbing, half-living house that harbours plenty of nasty surprises.

THE HAUNTED COLLECTION

THE GIRL IN THE CELLAR By Rolland Auda

'Létho jumped in shock. A body, long and thin, was leaning towards him. From a face, hidden behind straggles of hair, two piercing eyes looked out at him, before the creature stole away, disappearing into the darkness.'

For the last two weeks, Létho has been keen to find out what has happened to his best friend, Alma. She has not been coming to school, and nobody has heard from her. In fact, Alma has been locked away in her own home, struck down by a mysterious illness that prevents her from leaving the house. When Létho becomes a frequent visitor, Alma reveals that she senses a ghostly presence by her side, and that this spirit emerges from the cellar of the abandoned mirror factory next door. To help his friend, Létho agrees to make his way underground, regardless of the dangers he may face...

A story with a shocking final twist worthy of The Sixth Sense.

A hero readers can relate to — young, sensitive, and willing to do anything to help his friend.

A chilling setting — the dusty darkness of a maze of subterranean passageways... Readers of a nervous disposition, stay away!

THE LAST LITTLE MONKEY By Sarah Cohen-Scali

Trapped inside the photo booth, Karim's only way out is to agree to do something that is well beyond his understanding — a deal with the Devil, almost. And when Karim finds himself alone at home at night, his flat becomes the source of a strange array of sinister phenomena. Karim's life hangs in the balance, but it's not only his life that's at stake. There's somebody else Karim must help, and evil isn't always lurking where you might expect it...

The story of a curse that refuses to release its hold on the hero, right up to the very end...

Shocking and intense drama that makes for an unforgettable reading experience.

THE SHADOW STUDENTS By Anaïs Vachez

Jade straightened back up, as her heart leapt in her chest. Hugo had turned in her direction, his eyes fixed on her. His stance seemed odd; his body looked twisted. Like an automaton.'

It is Jade's first day of secondary school, and she is nervous about starting Year 7. With no friends, and in unfamiliar surroundings, Jade meets her form teacher, Mr Senkrad... The strangely unsettling Mr Senkrad promptly sets out a series of rules — no lateness, no talking, no missing school and no mobile phones allowed. And when, in their very first lesson, two pupils are caught chatting, Mr Senkrad coldly gives them both a detention. A few days later, the pupils who were given detentions seem different. They are sitting in the front row of the classroom. And with a hollow, soulless stare, they fix their eyes on Jade, who is really starting to get scared...

A young pupil at a secondary school who is scared of failing academically and not fitting in — a fantasy adventure that ties into two very revealing fears. Secondary school — with its hidden-away corners and many rules and restrictions — the perfect setting for strange goings-on.

Music and love combine in a powerful novel...

When Karen and Tom split up, they promised to find each other again in eight years' time. A year later, Karen decides to leave the life she knows behind and pursue her true passion — music. Tom, meanwhile, is well on his way to becoming a rock star.

When Karen and Tom meet again, they decide to break their promise and embrace the love they have for one another.

Karen is afraid of the new direction her life will take, but will soon realise that a remarkable future lies in store for her...

The author describes The Other Half of My Heart as 'a romance that serves as a Trojan horse through which to explore what freedom and the end of adolescence means in the modern world.'

Engaging and relatable characters negotiating the transition between childhood and adulthood.

A remarkable young heroine who becomes an adult as she battles to ascend the highest mountain in the world.

provisional artwork

High up there, she won't be the same person she was.

Fifteen-year-old Mallory is the youngest Frenchwoman ever to have summited a peak that extends more than eight thousand metres above sea level. The challenge she has now set herself is climbing Everest. The lack of oxygen, the physical effort required, and the extreme conditions on the mountain do not phase Mallory, because she is joined by her father; her pillar, her role model. But this is learning experience that will also benefit her.

A unique endeavour that will force Mallory to open her eyes to the world around her — the pollution created by mountain climbers, the melting of the ice caps, the potentially fatal strain that the climb places on Mallory's body, Buddhist teachings and, most critical of all, the importance of the message that she, a young girl on the cusp of adulthood, will take back to her homeland.

A physical and philosophical journey; a narrative exploration of commitment and dedication that serves to inspire readers to push beyond their limits and ensure that their voices are heard. A highly topical environmental message.

Based on the story of Silène Edgar's cousin, Marion Chaygneaud-Dupuy.

Marion Chaygneaud-Dupuy won the 2019 Prix Terre de Femmes award for her work cleaning Everest. As a result of Marion's efforts and the work of Clean Everest, the charity she created in 2016, 8.5 tonnes of waste were removed from the mountain. The first European to have summited Everest three times, Marion also appears as a character in 8848 Metres.

THE WHEELED COFFIN

One morning, and with no parents to stop him, Gabriel leaves home. He walks alone, and everybody who crosses his path has plenty of questions. What is the young wanderer looking for? What is he hiding in his strange, oversized wheeled box? From farms to villages, from villages to forests, from the tarmac of a busy road to the eddies of a river... One step after the next, Gabriel continues on his bizarre quest to find the perfect spot in which to bury his mother's coffin. And without him wanting them to, the people he meets will guide his choice.

Valerie Faris and Jonathan Dayton's Little Miss Sunshine meets David Lynch's The Straight Story in this surreal road trip.

A paean to nature and a celebration of the good that can come from chance encounters. A coming-of-age story that blends gravitas and innocence.

How do you come out of your shell at secondary school when you have always been a little different, and are still mollycoddled by your anxiety-ridden mother?

Leon is a quirky boy who lives in a world of his own; he has a deep love of animals and a heartfelt desire to make friends and stop being scared of everything. When he bumps into the garish-lipstick-wearing, rather rebelliously dressed and decidedly outspoken Salomé in a school corridor, his life suddenly changes direction completely. Leon gains confidence, dares to stand up to the taunts of the older boys and braves breaking free from his mother's oppressive attentiveness. The people he is closest to soon start to worry about Salomé's influence on him...

THE ARCHIPELAGO SERIES

Bertrand Puard's latest trilogy takes the reader on an ultra-contemporary thrill ride through an international network of maximum-security secret locations.

1. LATITUDE

2. LONGITUDE

3. THE TRUTH CAN'T BE BOUGHT, IT HAS TO BE STOLEN

2019. Three islands somewhere in the Atlantic Ocean, a thousand miles from Antarctica. Freezing polar temperatures, an arid landscape and a chain of volcanoes that threaten to erupt at any moment. Previously known as Southern Thule, this is the location where G8 leaders have chosen to join forces to create a series of impregnable maximum-security prisons. The world's most dangerous criminals are sent to live out the rest of their lives in these infernal conditions, joined by civilians with compromising secrets, people whom it is useful to keep at a distance...

This is the hell into which sixteen-year-old Yann Rodin, who steadfastly maintains his innocence, is thrown. He has found himself on the wrong end of a highly lucrative business venture masterminded by a former director of the Secret Services – an identity-switching operation. For a few million dollars, Anton Pavlovitch, a powerful French-Russian arms trader whom Interpol is hunting, has bought his son Sacha, who looks exactly like Yann, a peaceful continued existence. While Yann is tried and sent to Thule for crimes he has never committed, Sacha adopts his former life, discovering what the simplicity and tranquillity of living on the Eden that is the Île de Porquerolles on France's Côte d'Azur – far removed from the violence and corrupt business practices of his father – really means.

It's not their job to reboot the system. It's ours.

Zéphyr is sixteen years old, and he's starting to worry about the direction the world is heading in. The problem is, Zéphyr's grandmother has chosen him to run the family business, and the business just so happens to be the one-of-a-kind consultancy firm Arsène, which specialises in breaking and entering. Arsène's aim is to ensure that the vast technological empire Anata is able to extend its reach as it works alongside powerful political forces to spread misinformation around the world and manipulate popular opinion. Ctrl Alt Del begins with France's Environment Minister preparing to deliver a momentous speech that exposes the secret link between Anata and the French government — and he realises that on television sets, computer screens and mobile phones everywhere, people are watching. He knows that once he has said what he has to say, things will never be the same again...

Thirty Struggles that Have Shaped the Present Day

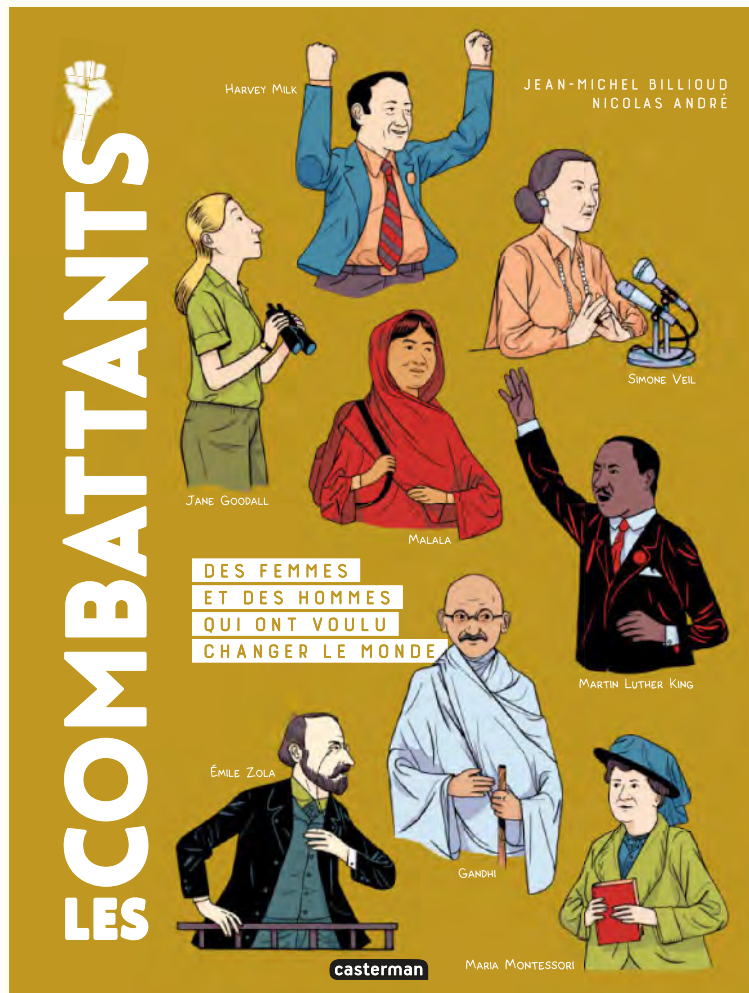

A study of fifteen women and fifteen men who changed the world by defying authority and challenging convention.

Fighters explores the most important ideological battles in world history from the perspective of the people who led them — the men and women whose lifelong devotion to the unrelenting pursuit of a cause has helped to create a fairer and more just world.

Featuring Harvey Milk, Simone Weil, Gandhi, Martin Luther King, Jane Goodall, Mother Teresa, Maria Montessori, Malala, Paul Watson and many more, Fighters not only offers a series of biographical portraits of these key figures, but also showcases the causes they stood for and the status of these issues in the present day.

Blending biography and graphic-novel storytelling, Fighters' new narrative approach inspires children to find out more about a range of subjects that are vitally important in fostering an understanding of how our world works.

A book that encourages readers of all ages to take a stand...

VAN GOGH

By Marion Augustin & Bruno Heitz

available
19.8 x 28.5 cm
48 pages
€ 12.95

After books dedicated to Monet and Da Vinci, this third volume continues an increasingly popular and comprehensive biographical collection. Discover the story of one of the world's greatest painters...

Vincent Van Gogh (1853–1890) was a misunderstood genius, a sensitive and tortured soul who became a legend. Famed for his unconventional and uncategorisable style, his vivid use of colour and exquisite brushwork saw him serve as a precursor to Fauvism and Expressionism. His research into shape and colour left a lasting impression on generations of artists. A prolific creator, he produced over eight hundred paintings in the course of his life, the most famous of which now figure prominently in the collective imagination.

As it follows the artist from Paris to Auvers-sur-Oise, with a detour via Arles, this comic-book guide offers readers an opportunity to appreciate Van Gogh's work in full, as they immerse themselves in the story of one of the most famous artists in the world.
